

Nikole Losch, PT, DPT

Nikole is a physical therapist specializing in pediatric treatment. Graduating from Rosalind Franklin University with her Doctor of Physical Therapy in 2010, she also studied pediatrics at two clinics in Wisconsin and Illinois. She observed two developmental clinics at University of Chicago during those clinical affiliations. While attaining her doctorate, she was a student teacher for the pediatric physical therapy course at Rosalind Franklin University. Currently she resides in Lake Villa with her husband and 6 month old son. She looks forward to expanding her knowledge in the pediatric field, and providing services to the children in the Lake County area.
